

Hidden Giants training programmes

Hidden Giants is an education consultancy that collaborates with teachers, practitioners and policy makers. We support schools to re-imagine their curriculum by placing innovative, creative and critical thinking at its heart.

Hidden Giants offer intensive training programmes to meet modern professional needs across the school sector. Programmes can be delivered in a single day, or scheduled across three twilight sessions. Suitable for teachers, support staff, managers and leaders, Hidden Giants' programmes are brought to your school by expert facilitators.

Outdoor learning

Hidden Giants demonstrate how learning and teaching can be transformed by working outdoors impacting positively on teacher agency, pupil engagement, behaviour and attainment. The outdoors offers opportunities to renegotiate rules, responsibilities and expectations, empowering both teachers and pupils.

Programme attendees will:

- Gain an overview of the latest research and key ideas about outdoor learning
- Understand the multiple benefits afforded by purposefully harnessing the outdoors
- Understand 'how to' think and do differently outdoors
- Identify potential locations and curricular opportunities for outdoor learning

"I have taken the children outdoors more and been more creative with how the children lead the learning."

"It definitely had an impact on my class' behaviour in particular."

"I have noticed that when the children are discussing something that they are interested in, I get more interesting questions from the children and they are able to sustain a discussion for longer before going off task."
